Twelsth Annual Report.

To the Members of Salem Bible Class:

DEAR FRIENDS: In the good providence of God we have been permitted to witness the close of the old, and to enter upon the beginning of another new year. I record this fact with feelings of devout gratitude to God for all the blessings, temporal, as well as spiritual, wherewith He has visited us. Although none of our number have been removed by death, yet many of us have been sorely afflicted by sickness and bereavement. Unusual heat and drought existed through the summer, and from causes exceedingly difficult to understand, there prevailed a great deal of disease and an unusual mortality, especially among children and those who were advanced in years. In common with many of the Class, I was prevented by severe illness from being present with you for a number of Sabbaths in September and October. To me it was a matter of deep regret, yet that regret was much lessened by the fact that one of the Class, Brother John K. Tomlinson, kindly acted as my substitute, and I am happy to know performed the duties of teacher to your entire satisfaction. For this act of brotherly kindness I sincerely thank him, and we shall all esteem him more highly than ever "for his work's sake."

On the second day of January, the annual election of officers took place, with the result as stated upon the first page of this Report.

In February Col. Robert Cowden, of Galion, Ohio, General Secretary of the United Brethren Sunday School Union, visited Pennsylvania in pursuance of his official duties. Learning that he was in our city, I called on him, and he consented to lecture before the Class. As it was impossible for him to be present with us on a Sabbath, an arrangement was made with the officers of the Young Men's Christian Association, who kindly permitted us the use of their Hall on the evening of the third of March. vitation to be present, was extended to the Sunday School Teachers and Superintendents of the city. Although the evening was exceedingly inclement, yet the hall was well filled. The Lecturer's theme was the "Work and attributes of the respective Persons of the Triune God; the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit." Many took notes of the lecture, and all felt that it was an evening well spent. Our prayer is that, the Lord may spare His earnest and devoted servant, to labor yet for many years in the important work in which he is engaged. The teachers in the Sunday Schools and Bible Classes of our country, themselves feel the necessity of being taught, and when one so able to instruct as is our brother from Ohio, visits a place, every effort should be made to give Sunday School workers the opportunity to hear him.

One of our Organists, Miss Mary A. Wagner, having been solicited by Mr. — Moyer, Principal of the Musical College, at Freeburg, Snyder county, Pennsylvania, to take charge of that Institution, for two terms, in all, some twelve weeks, the Class was deprived of her services for that period, during which time our other Organist, Miss Mary A. Altmaier, officiated in her stead. When Miss Altmaier was detained we had the services of Miss Nellie V. Solomon, Mrs. Ambrose W. Wise, Miss Rebecca Hoffman, all members of our Class, and upon one occasion, of Miss Ida R. Mills, of Watkins, N. Y., who attended our meetings several times during her visit to Harrisburg. Miss Wagner, having filled the position of Organist for more than seven years with great punctuality, scarcely ever absent except when sickness or absence from the city occurred, the Class showed their appreciation of her fidelity by presenting her a beautiful copy of the Scriptures, and some other articles of value. This presentation took place at a special meeting, held at the Teacher's residence, on the twenty-seventh of April.

On the twenty-ninth of May we had the pleasure of an annual visit made us by Rev. John McCullaugh, of Kentucky, for more than forty years a Missionary of the American Sunday School Union. Though greatly advanced in years he is still, in labors abundant, fervent in spirit, serving his Lord. Of the older Missionaries so long engaged in this blessed work many rest from their labors, asleep in Jesus. The beloved Childlaw and McCullaugh remain unto this present. Their life-long services, have embalmed them in the affections of tens of thousands of children and parents in Western and Southern homes where their names are household words and none of us in the East who have been privileged to hear their earnest words in behalf of the destitute communities in the West will ever forget their appeals.

On the twelfth of December, 1879, we finished our studies of the Acts of the Apostles and began our Lessons on passages selected from the Epistles of Paul, Peter, James and John, and of the Revelator's Messages to the Seven Churches of Asia. These occupied our Sabbaths until the fourth of September, 1881, when we resumed our favorite text book Mimpriss' Steps of Jesus.

A most interesting feature in our past year's history is our weekly prayer meeting, held every Tuesday evening from house to house among the membership.— On the whole these meetings have been well sustained. On account of the excessively hot weather of the summer, and the prevailing sickness among many members in the autumn, the meetings closed on the tenth of July and were resumed on the fourth of October. take this occasion to thank those brethren and sisters who have shown their appreciation of social prayer by their regular attendance and who have done so much to sustain the meetings. And it affords me peculiar pleasure to thus publicly acknowledge our obligations to the brethren A. L. Chayne, James Fletcher, J. M. Williamson, Charles Gumpert, J. B. Bostick and James Banford, who though now connected with other Sunday Schools, have with great punctuality attended and taken an active part in these meetings. May the Lord reward them for their labor of love. No difficulty has been experienced in obtaining places to meet, and we look forward to a still greater interest in the work. Many of the male members of the Class have not command of their time, being engaged in occupations often requiring them to labor at night. however, many others who by a little effort, would be able to attend. We say to all, come whenever you Those who do attend, feel greatly strengthened in spiritual things and regard the meetings as very precious. I need scarcely remind you of the efficacy of prayer, or what copious showers of Divine grace we might receive, if our entire class would be united in supplication for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

Our meetings may also prove a blessing not only to the families who open their doors to us, but to the neighbors who are invited in, and in whose hearts the Holy Spirit may perform a great work in answer to prayer. My dear friends think of these things, and may He, in whose cause we are all striving to labor, give you wisdom and grace to fulfill your duty.

Our Library claims attention. Some seventy volumes were placed in the hands of the binder for repairs and rebinding. Many of them have done good service, some of them judging from their appearance a very hard service. But experience with Sunday School Library books proves that they will wear out. Beside the money necessary to pay the repair of old books, there should be an additional sum raised for the purchase of new ones. The number to be added will depend entirely upon the amount our membership may see fit to collect. Whenever you desire to take action in this matter, committees will be appointed to call on the members, or the funds may be raised in some other way, if preferred. Efforts heretofore made in this direction have always proved successful, and will be again, if the same zeal is manifested.

Our Twelfth Annual Re-Union took place at the Armory of the City Grays, corner of Second and Forster streets, on the evening of Thursday, December 22nd, 1881.

Though it rained steadily a large number were present, and all seemed to enjoy themselves very much.

The music was taken in charge by our musical director, Brother Phelps, together with Brother A. L. Chayne, now of the Presbyterian School, and Brother Charles May, now engaged in teaching an adult Bible Class in Grace M. E. Sunday School, and Prof. Ellenberger, to all of whom we are greatly indebted for their successful efforts in adding to the enjoyment of the evening. Our organists, Miss Mary A. Wagner and Miss Mary A. Altmaier, were assisted by Miss Sadie L. Chayne, formerly a member of the Class, now teaching in the Presbyterian Sunday School. These ladies, together with Miss Beckie Hoffman, Mrs. Robert Keister, Miss Alice Blosser, rendered several beautiful duetts. A number of hymns were also sung at intervals by the entire Class.

A pleasing incident of the evening was a recitation unexpectedly given by a very young lad named Alter Kennedy, nephew of Mr. John Alter, who is in his 79th year, and for years has been a regular member of our Class. He acquitted himself very creditably, and we were pleased to learn from Prof. Tomlinson, who is his present teacher, that he bears a most excellent reputation for studious habits and correct deportment.

Excellent addresses, for which we tender to the speakers our most hearty thanks, were delivered by Prof. Lewis H. Gause, Prof. John K. Tomlinson, and Mr. William H. Snyder. The last named gentleman conducts an adult Bible Class numbering about one hundred members connected with the Second Reformed Church of this city, and which we are glad to learn is constantly increasing. These addresses all exhibited the deep interest the speakers feel in the work in which we are engaged, and were replete with wise counsels to all of us, to which we would do well to take earnest heed. A humorous recitation was admirably given by Miss Alice Blosser, entitled "Josiah Allen's wife at A. T. Stewart's store." Refreshments were served at $9\frac{1}{2}$ o'clock, after which an appropriate hymn was sung and the meeting closed with prayer for the Divine blessing, upon each and all.

During the course of the remarks made by Prof. Tomlinson he turned to the Teacher, and in the name of the members of the Class presented him a copy of a new and valuable work just published by the Harpers, entitled "Ilios: The City and Country of the "Trojans, the Results of Researches and Discoveries "on the site of Troy and throughout the Troad in the "years 1871 to 1879," by Dr Henry Schliemann. can only reiterate my assurances then expressed, of sincere gratitude to you for this token of your love and thoughtful regard. I do not merit such kindness at your hands; but it is in perfect keeping with the During the twelve years now elapsed, in which it has been my privilege humbly to offer a simple exposition of God's word for your consideration, and to study with you His precious truth, you have uniformly exhibited towards me unremitting kindness and af-Be assured this feeling is fully reciprocated. To spend and be spent for your highest good is my only aim, and while our Heavenly Father shall see fit to continue the relation now existing between us as Leader and Members of Salem Bible Class, I shall endeavor by the grace of God to be faithful. Feeling my weakness and insufficiency for this great trust, I would lean upon the hand of the Great Teacher, and beg a continued interest in your intercessions at His throne.

And now as we enter upon the new year ignorant of what scenes of trial or of joy it may bring to us or our households, let us exercise a strong faith in Him who holds our temporal and eternal destinies in His hand, and show our faith by obedience to His commands. His will, and our duty, are clearly revealed to us in His Word. Guided by the Holy Spirit, we need but walk closely with Him, and our peace is as-Constituted by our Maker free agents, we will be held accountable for the choice we may make of the path we will pursue in this life. Neutrality is im-"Not this man, but Barabbas,', was the unpossible. happy choice, made almost nineteen centuries ago, and the withering curse of the Almighty, has followed those who made it, unto this day. Not Christ, but the World! is the equally unhappy choice now made, by thousands all around us, whose lives indicate the truth of this remark. Christ rejected, means, the world accepted! On the one hand we behold the Son of God freely offering an eternity of unalloyed happiness, to all who will accept His love; and on the other, the fleeting and unsatisfying pleasures of this short life, and the blackness of darkness and untold misery in the world to come. Let us resolve that, so far as we are concerned, the blessed Saviour shall not be wounded in the house of His friends. A life consistent with the solemn vows we took on entering His church, will be a perpetual well-spring of peace and joy in our souls. Following His footsteps, we must contentedly deny ourselves many things, which the world deems innocent. How much better, to share the Cross with Jesus, than to be haunted with an upbraiding conscience and a fearful foreboding of the wrath of an offended God!

And to those who have not yet united with God's people, by a public profession of their faith, let me say, in all tenderness,

"'Tis only a step to Jesus!
"Then why not take it Now?"

Why procrastinate? why delay a matter infinitely important to your welfare? You intend, of course, to become a christian at some future time; you have no idea of finally rejecting the Saviour; you know your duty and mean to perform it. But what are the lessons daily taught us in regard to life? Death is taking place continually, and in the most unusual and unexpected forms. Life is "but a vapor which appeareth for a little while, and then vanisheth away." Do you expect, that your case will be an exception, that the patience and forbearance of God is to be limited to suit your convenience, and that you will be permitted by Him to fix the time when you will accept offered mercy? How dare you trifle with Omnipotence? awake, I beseech you, to a full consciousness of your perilous condition. Break the fetters with which the enemy has bound you, and hasten to rejoice in the liberty wherewith Christ makes His children free!

The year just closed has been an extraordinary one. We have never seen its like. No twelve months of modern history, have ever before included so many startling events. God has spoken to the nations of the earth, our own included, as He never spake before. Disasters by fire and flood, by sea and by land, pestilence, earthquakes, drought, heat and cold, calamities most unusual in character and frequency, make up a chapter dreadful to contemplate. And what a picture presents itself when we look at the record of human doings. Crime in a thousand forms stalking over the land. The cabinets and departments of the State and Nation reeking with fraud and corruption. In many instances the law-makers the greatest of law-breakers. High officials setting an example of intemperance and immorality shameful to behold, and using their positions for personal aggrandizement

Our Courts of Justice (!), by a lax administration of the laws, are often influenced against their own convictions of right, by wily attorneys, fostering and per petuating intemperance, and gambling, and crime that may not be named, in defiance of the well known sentiments of law abiding, christian citizens, who constitute in most instances, an overwhelming majority of their constituencies. Magistrates and their subordinates winking at crime, and apparently prefering popularity among those who are sapping the very foundations of free government.

Gigantic corporations, and great manufacturing establishments, robbing their employees of the Sabbath day, thus demoralizing thousands of families, and cultivating a public sentiment that although Jehovah Himself hath said, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy", capital and chartered rights may abrogate Divine law at their pleasure.

Many an anguished heart, in the silence of the midnight watches, cries out to God, "How long, O Lord, how long!" must these things be borne. Such was the cry that rose from the Alps of Switzerland, from Germany and France and Holland a few centuries ago when religious persecution ran riot and God's children were crushed to earth, under the heel of a Hierarchy, which gloated with a hellish joy upon its helpless victims. But the "blood of the Martyrs was the seed of the Church." In God's own time the monster, hoary with age and drunk with the blood of the saints, was driven from his temporal throne.

So in our own beloved land. In the sunny South, created by God to be the garden of the world, three millions of wretched beings were held in disgraceful bondage. Backed by the power of the Federal Government, sustained by the customs of two centuries, slavery seemed to be so rooted in the very fabric of our institutions that it never could be abolished. So perfectly lost to all sense of right had the Southern States become that it was a penitentiary offence to teach a man made in the image of God to read His word; the marital relation was ignored by law; a white man could murder a colored man in the presence of an hundred other colored men, and not one of them could appear in evidence against him. "How long, O Lord, how long!" was the piercing cry that went up to Heaven from thousands of slave cabins. The petitioners did not know how, or when; but they believed that God would come. In his own time and way He came. When the horizon was black with clouds, and the hour seemed the darkest, the Lord called forth a man, not from the palaces of the rich or great, nor of royal line, but from a home of poverty and obscurity. He placed him at the head of this great nation, and at the very hour appointed in the counsels of eternity Abraham Lincoln wrote Liberty to the slave and the oppressed went free. Slavery was forever blotted out, and human servitude, except for crime, became a thing of the past. Discouraging as our surroundings are now, there will come a brighter day. Christianity wlll triumph! The cry of bleeding hearts, widowed and orphaned, and oppressed by unjust laws, and wicked administrators of the law, is daily heard by Him who is Sovereign of all. In His own time, He will answer that cry. Some of us now present will live to see that glorious day. Who the man will be, or whence he will come, is not for us to know; but that he will be called at the proper time we may be confident. His act, like that of the immortal Lincoln, will be but the expression of the will of the people reduced to writing and interwoven in the organic law of the country. To this glorious consummation let us devote ourselves with all the powers of our being. The Psalmist said three thousand years ago "I have seen the wicked in great power and spreading "himself like a green bay tree; yet he passed away, "and lo! he was not: yea I sought him, but he could not be found." Thus will it be, with those interests, which now oppose the true welfare of this great peo-For the present, they seem well nigh omnipo-But with fidelity and watchfulness upon the part of the people of God, the mighty shall be dethroned. Like the silent, yet powerful influence of the sun, which in spring time melts the deep snow banks on the mountain side, and so fills the valleys below with a resistless torrent, carrying off to the wide ocean every barrier raised by man, so the benign influence of Christianity on the proud hearts of men, will melt into one common stream of love and union, the now divided sentiments of men, as to the best methods of overcoming the enemies of the Cross, and the current of public opinion, sanctified by the grace of God will sweep from our statute books those unjust laws, which now allow the wealthy and influential few, by the authority of legal enactments, to trample with impunity upon the sacred and inalienable rights of the many. God speed the day!

As ever, yours in Christian fellowship and love,
